LIBRARY STORY HOUR

BECOMING VERY POPULAR WITH THE CHILDREN OF GLENDALE

When the story hour on Wednesday mornings was revived as a feature of vacation time at the Glendale Library, it was not thought it would be so popular as has been proven. The attendance was about 30 at first but this week it had swelled to 82. Fairy stories are told the children who listen with breathless attention and follow the narration closely. Some of them come as soon as they have had their breakfasts and it would be a most unpopular mother who would refuse her child the great boon of attending this story hour.

It opens at 9 o'clock and while it is in progress the library is closed to adults. The entertainer this week was Miss Laura Wilford Brown, daughter of Mrs. O. L. Kilborn, of 217 West Lomita avenue. Miss Brown loves children and is loved by them in return. She is therefore peculiarly adapted to the pleasant task for which she had special training in a story-telling course which she took under Mrs. Cunningham in the School of Methods of Christian Churches of Southern California for the benefit of Sunday School teachers. She has charge of the Primary Department of the Christian Sunday School. She gave her services Wednesday and said she would serve again if desired. She told two stories, one being "The Silver Shield." The children were so delighted she will probably be called upon again in the near future.

The little boys and girls who flock to the library and who range in age from four to nine years, have been divided into two contesting teams with a captain for each. The object of the division is to determine which team can bring in the largest number of recruits for the story hour. At the end of the season the losing team will probably entertain the winners in some way.

Mrs. Danford, the librarian, reports that new juvenile books will probably be ready for circulation when the next story hour is held.

ANOTHER APPRECIATIVE ADVERTISER

W. J. Carkeek, of 1232 East California avenue, called this morning at the Evening News office to pay tribute to the News as an advertising medium. As a business man of 33 years' experience he has made a special study of advertising. He always directed his traveling salesmen to notice while on the road the papers that seemed most popular on trains and news stands and these he used in placing his advertising. He had given no thought to the matter of the Evening News' pulling power, but wishing to sell a cow he put a 3-line ad in the classified columns. Before he had received his own paper, a man who evidently was among the first to be served by the carrier boy, was at the house and bought the cow. Later callers, of course, had to go away disappointed. Mr. Carkeek says if any of his friends in Los Angeles want to sell anything he will advise them to put an ad in the Glendale Evening News' classified columns, as everybody seems to read them.

M. J. BRENNAN EXPECTED

Mrs. M. J. Brennan of 519 North Central avenue is looking for the return of her husband Sunday or Monday. He has been away for a month or more and spent two weeks in Chicago in conference with his firm, the Marshall Field Company, for which he is a western representative. His field is a large one and he will make stops in Colorado and other western states on the way home. He is very up-to-date and used the telephone to communicate with his wife from Chicago. He will be in such a hurry to get home it would not greatly surprise her to have him arrive in an airship. His daughter, Dorothy Brennan, is recuperating from an operation for the removal of adenoids which she recently underwent at the Burbank Hospital.

STIRRING UP HOME PRIDE

The Los Angeles City Annexation Commission and their co-workers in Glendale are deserving of thanks inasmuch as they are stirring up the local pride of Glendale citizens. There are men, talented citizens, who have not taken any part in local affairs, because they were contented to reside in an independent municipality where everything was moving along fairly smoothly, but now when the question arises of stealing their city, they arise up in all their dignity and declare hands off.

FROM COLORADO

THE CENTENNIAL STATE LOSES ANOTHER GOOD CITIZEN TO GLENDALE

From the Trinidad, Colo., Chronicle News of a few weeks ago we clip the following complimentary reference to a man who, after persistent efforts to live in Glendale, has managed to secure living accommodations: Mr. Gysin has established himself in Glendale as a wholesale sign painter:

"John A. Gysin, one of the pioneer residents and business men of Trinidad, announces his retirement from business in this city and on account of his wife's ill health will remove to California to make his future home. Mr. Gysin and family will leave Trinidad in the near future. His departure will be a matter of regret to many Trinidad friends and business acquaintances.

"Mr. Gysin has been in the sign business in Trinidad since 1887. He started out with a small shop on North Commercial street and by his own efforts and hard work and ability to perform service that business has increased to its present large proportions. Mr. Gysin, during his long residence here, has been active in civic affairs, serving as a member of the city council for several years. He has manifested an enthusiastic interest in photography and the sport with rod and reel, being a member of the old Trinidad Camera Club and one of the original organizers of the Fin and Feather Club. Mr. Gysin has erected a number of 'monuments' in Trinidad which bear his name. Gysin signs are known all over Trinidad and Las Animas county and throughout Southern Colorado and Northern New Mexico."

TOO MUCH TERRITORY

E. A. Radcliffe of 426 Pioneer Drive, who came to the Pacific Coast from Iowa a year or more ago, is an enthusiastic booster for Glendale and for Southern California. He is a good promoter and is making an excellent record for enticing his friends to the Golden State. His latest success in this line is an old friend who was a Congregationalist preacher in Illinois and who came west last year as far as Provo, Utah, where he was superintendent of the Proctor Academy. The altitude proved too high for him and so Mr. Radcliffe set about securing a charge for him on this coast. He found there were but three vacancies, one of which he landed—Grace Congregational Church near Huntington Park, where the dominie has been preaching good, practical Christianity on Sundays for the past two months and making his home with the Radcliffes. His family arrived Monday and have been assisted by Mr. Radcliffe in getting settled in their new home.

When complimented on his efficient work on behalf of his friend, Mr. Radcliffe declared: "You can always find what you are looking for if you will look in the right way." He then told story of the Irishman who was looking for trouble and who found it. Pat entered the bar-room of the hotel and truculently declared he could lick any man there. Nobody paid any attention. He then announced with more confidence that he could lick any man in the town. Nobody paid any attention. Growing bolder he insisted he could lick any man in the state. At that a little fellow who had listened with weary contempt pulled off his coat and remarked that he was a resident of the state and would accept the challenge. He then proceeded to wipe up the floor with the braggart until he begged for mercy. Gathering together he explained his situation thus: "I put up a good fight, but I made the mistake of takin' in too much territory."

Mr. and Mrs. Radcliffe are looking daily for the arrival of their son who has been in service and who is now visiting friends in Iowa on his way home.

PLAN S. S. PICNIC

Members of the Sunday School class of Rev. E. H. Williford, pastor of the Congregationalist Church, have arranged for a picnic at Echo Park Friday evening to which the parents have been invited. The supper is to be served at 6:30 and probably some of the picnickers will go to the park direct from their offices in Los Angeles.

BACK ON THE JOB

Ralph Proctor of 1135 East Wilton avenue is back on his old civil engineering job as surveyor for the City of Los Angeles. He returned from army service in June and did not lose much time in getting to work in spite of his joy in getting home.

CONFERENCES WITH REPUBLICANS

PRESIDENT WILSON HAS ARRANGED TO GRANT EACH SENATOR AN HOUR AND SEE SEVERAL EACH DAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Opponents of the league of nations have indicated that before the end of the present week they will demand that the Senate pass a resolution denouncing the Shantung settlement provided for in the peace treaty.

At the White House it was said the president intends to continue his conferences with Republican senators until he has seen them all. It was also stated that he has arranged to devote an hour to each senator although the custom heretofore has been for visits to the president to last only fifteen minutes. He will see four or five senators daily.

STRONG FIGHT TO REGAIN TRADE

GERMAN BUSINESS EXPERTS TO BE SENT TO ALL PARTS OF WORLD TO PROMOTE BUSINESS RELATIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

BERLIN, July 17.—The German government and representatives of business interests are organizing an army of technical and business experts to go to all parts of the world and try to recover for Germany its lost foreign commerce. Some of them will be unattached, others will be connected with embassies and consulates. They will gather data on all lines of trade and try to promote friendly relations.

German commercial organizations and business concerns are formulating elaborate plans for the resumption of trade and it is evident that Germany will make a strong fight to regain its business prestige.

WARTIME PROHIBITION ENFORCEMENT

CHAIRMAN STERLING OF JUDICIARY COMMITTEE SAYS SENATE PLANS NO CHANGES

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

WASHINGTON, July 17.—Apparently there is little chance for a modification of the strict provisions of the wartime prohibition enforcement act. Chairman Sterling, of the Senate Judiciary committee, today declared that the Senate did not intend to make any changes in the House bill.

HUNGARIAN BOLSHEVIKI LIKELY TO BE OVERTHROWN BY ANTI-SOVIET FACTIONS

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

VIENNA, July 17.—(Copyrighted by United Press) Bolshevik Hungary is ready to fight in defense of the Soviet government against the world but it is evident that a small allied army, particularly if it were to include Americans, could crush the Bolshevik easily.

The food situation in Hungary is critical and Buda Pesth is virtually starving. The internal dissensions are serious. Soviet leaders face the problem of raising and equipping an army from among people whose morale is at the lowest point. Should the expected allied offensive fail to materialize, it is probable that some anti-soviet factions could overthrow the soviet government as the Red army apparently does not want to fight its own brothers. Trade unions are leading the strongest anti-soviet movement.

JACK DEMPSEY IN LOS ANGELES

SAYS HE IS READY TO MEET ANY ONE THE PUBLIC WANTS HIM TO FIGHT

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

LOS ANGELES, July 17.—Jack Dempsey, champion pugilist, has arrived and has been spending the day in negotiations for a million-dollar motion picture contract. He leaves for San Francisco tonight. He says he is ready to meet any one the public wants him to fight, particularly the winner of the Beckett-Carpentier match for the European championship.

PRESIDENT OF IRISH REPUBLIC EN TOUR

IS WARMLY WELCOMED IN SAN FRANCISCO AND WILL REACH LOS ANGELES MONDAY

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

SAN FRANCISCO, July 17.—The tri-color of the Irish Republic today floated over San Francisco public buildings in honor of President De Valera, of the Irish republic, who is due here late this afternoon.

Mayor Ralph and public officials will greet him. Valera is to address the National Convention of Hibernians tomorrow and will leave for Los Angeles Monday.

MARJORIE RAMBEAU

WILL RETURN TO LOS ANGELES SUNDAY FOR A TWO WEEKS' ENGAGEMENT

Mrs. Lilian Rambeau of 205 East Chestnut street says that her daughter, Marjorie Rambeau, will be here Sunday to open a two weeks' engagement in the "Auditorium," Los Angeles. She is not certain what the play will be, whether "The Eyes of Youth," "Where Poppies Bloom" or "The Fortune Teller," all of which are tremendously popular.

Mrs. Rambeau has recently returned from the Yosemite and while in the North had a visit with her daughter who is now playing in San Francisco. After completing her fortnight's engagement here the actress will return to Oakland for a two weeks' engagement and then will go to New York to work up her new play which promises to be a tremendous success. It is by an author unknown to fame and has not yet been named, but it is along lines similar to "The Eyes of Youth" and one of the titles which has been suggested is "The Stronger Woman." As usual there is a little friction between the author and the actress over changes she desires to make.

Mrs. Rambeau is delighted to be in California again although New York is New York and has been very good to her.

Mrs. Rambeau is considering selling their home here and going to a walnut ranch which she and her daughter own in Contra Costa county at the foot of Mount Diablo, a ranch which is now developed where she feels it requires her personal attention. If she does make the change, she and her mother will build a house on the ranch and make it their home.

CANNING FRUIT

It is safe to announce that nine housewives out of ten in the city of Glendale are putting up apricots which are abundant and comparatively cheap, the price ranging from 75¢ to $2 per box according to size and quality. Peaches are also coming on and will be in the boiling kettle soon. The high price of berries of all sorts has kept them from the can thus far. It is charged that the Japanese gardeners who grow most of them have entered into an agreement to take them off the market at an early hour, turning them over to Japanese canneries, leaving no surplus to be sold at a low price. Japanese growers have lost money in the past from overstocking the market and have learned to co-operate in this manner and thus maintain prices and save loss.

AVIATOR FALLS TO HIS DEATH

Within sight of Glendale residents who might have been gazing off to the southwest Wednesday forenoon, a big Curtis biplane fell 600 feet, landing with a sickening crash, near DeMille Aviation Field, bursting immediately into flames. Horrified spectators rushed to the scene and dragged from the burning wreckage the body of the aviator, Lieut. Charles G. Mauzy. He had come up from Rockwell Field, San Diego, the day before, and, having had some engine trouble on the way, went up Wednesday forenoon to locate the cause of it in a short test flight. The machine fell in a tail spin, and could not be brought under control by Lieut. Mauzy in time to avoid the crash. He was known as a daring, successful aviator and was quite popular with his associates.

FACTS MUST GOVERN

It is the purpose of the men who are calling the Anti-Annexation Meeting to have committees appointed whose duty it will be to carefully investigate as to the advantages and disadvantages of annexation to Los Angeles. Facts when properly presented will be heeded by any sensible man and Glendale is full of good, sensible men. A proposition that is good for one individual is good for all persons whose circumstances are the same. We must be governed by facts.

The editor of the Evening News has made a study of the annexation question. He attended all the public meetings on both sides of that question at Eagle Rock several years ago, and, at that time, became thoroughly convinced that annexation to Los Angeles by a city situated as Glendale is situated is folly, but others of this city did not attend these meetings and facts showing the real true condition of things must be placed before them.

WEATHER FORECAST: Fair except cloudy or foggy tonight and in the early morning near the coast.

ACCIDENTALLY SHOT

YOUNG MARRIED WOMAN MEETS INSTANT DEATH IN HER HOME

Funeral services over the body of Mrs. Helen Frances Provo were held this afternoon at 2 o'clock, in charge of the L. G. Sovern Co., in the Little Church of the Flowers. Interment was in Forest Lawn. Mrs. Provo was 27 years of age, lived with her husband, two children and mother on a ranch 22 miles east of Saugus near the entrance to Mint Canyon. Tuesday evening, about 6 o'clock, Mrs. Provo and her mother were sitting in the house when the latter suddenly exclaimed: "There's a squirrel, want to shoot it?" At the same time she reached for a 22-long rifle standing beside her. It must have been cocked for as she picked it up it was discharged, the bullet entering Mrs. Provo's cheek, ranging upward and lodging in the brain. She fell to the floor and when picked up was dead. An inquest was held and a verdict returned of accidental death, in accordance with the above facts. The grief-stricken mother, husband and children have the universal sympathy of the community in which they live.

OLD RESIDENTS RETURN TO VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dick, who formerly resided at Milford and Brand in this city and who are now living at Anaheim, were here a few days ago calling on old neighbors and friends. With them was their son, Lieutenant Samuel Dick, who has just returned from France and who expects to go to San Francisco very soon to be mustered out after having been in service twenty-two months. His sister, Jennie Dick, is librarian in the Letterman Hospital there. Another sister, Margaret, will be remembered by the young people of Glendale as she attended Glendale Union High while they lived here. Lieutenant Dick seems to have thrived in army life and his friends report that he looks fine.

NOBLE RIPLEY IN U. S.

Mrs. Noble Ripley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Hobbs, was made very happy by the receipt Wednesday noon of a telegram from her husband announcing his arrival at Camp Mills. He has been in the eighth division, but was sent home with a Casual Company and she is hoping he will be able to secure his discharge there and come directly home. There will be great rejoicing when he arrives and probably a big reunion of relatives and friends particularly those who have been in army service.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT

MRS. COLE DRIVES CROCHET HOOK ENTIRELY THROUGH HAND

Mrs. John D. Cole of 601 North Louise suffered a most peculiar and very painful accident last Monday. She was preparing to leave the house for a visit with a relative and had her crochet hook in a cloth handbag swinging from her left wrist. She dropped her door key as she was going out and, stooping quickly for it, struck the back of her hand, the left one, so hard against the crochet hook that it went through, between the first two fingers, coming out near the base of the thumb. Pulling it back through was a terribly painful operation, the hook catching on a bone and tearing the flesh badly. A doctor was summoned promptly and dressed the wound, taking particular care to avoid danger of lockjaw. Mrs. Cole was able to be out to the church supper at Central Christian Wednesday night, though still suffering considerable pain.

TO PAINT SCHOOL BUILDINGS

Trustees of City Schools are advertising for bids for painting the Columbus Avenue and the Cerritos Avenue School buildings. These expenditures will be entirely outside of those included in the proposed bond issue and the work will be done regardless of the outcome of the election. In some portions of the Cerritos avenue building the paint is entirely gone and there is a crying need of protection from the weather.

Mrs. Wayland Brown and daughter, Eleanor, who have been here for a month where they have many friends, were joined last week by Mr. Brown and the three have gone to the Yosemite and San Francisco. They will stop here on their return when en route to their home at Grand Canyon, Arizona.

GLENDALE, CALIFORNIA, THURSDAY, JULY 17, 1919

PACIFIC COAST TO BE PROVINCE OF JAPAN

With the present ratio of progress of the Japanese on the coast continuing in the future as in the past, it will only be a question of time until the white race is eliminated from the entire Pacific coast, was the opinion expressed by Miller Freeman of Seattle, a member of the Washington State Veterans' Welfare commission and a publisher of several well known trade journals, who was in the city on his way east.

The rapid spread of the Japanese in the western part of the state has brought about the closing of many opportunities to Americans returning to civil life from military and naval life, said Freeman in discussing the peril. "The spread of the Japanese industry has been most amazing.

"Under the 'gentleman's agreement' made between President Roosevelt and the Japanese government at the time of the California trouble with the Japanese it was agreed upon that America would prohibit all immigration of the laboring classes from Japan to the United States.

"While this agreement has probably been technically complied with, passports have been issued in wholesale quantities to alleged Japanese business men, representatives of commercial houses, students and so forth. These have been coming to this country steadily, and far more rapidly than our own people realize.

"Quite recently it seems that this immigration has taken renewed life, and there is now a well defined organized movement on the coast which is causing much concern to those of our people that have given the question their attention.

"This movement of the Japanese in this state has centered largely in and around Seattle. There the Japanese are taking over large hotels, lodging houses, leasing property on a large scale, engaging in the grocery business, tailoring, establishing commission houses and entering all fields of industry and business.

"Some time ago the City of Seattle established a free city market for the benefit of the people. This city market today is practically entirely in the hands of Japanese, who operate on the lines of a guild similar to those in existence in Japan.

"Commission row on Western avenue, Seattle, is now dotted with Japanese concerns, and it will only be a short time, unless checked by some vigorous steps by the people of this state, until the Japanese will be in control of all farm produce entering the City of Seattle."—Spokane Spokesman-Review.

"EX POST FACTO" LIQUOR EFFORTS

An association whose "prime purpose" is to make the eighteenth amendment to the constitution "forever inoperative" has been formed in New York, under well-financed auspices.

There are only two ways of making the eighteenth amendment inoperative.

One is to induce two-thirds of congress to submit, and three-fourths of the state legislatures to ratify, a new amendment repealing this amendment. Everybody knows that this can not be done.

The other is to elect legislatures and congresses which will not pass laws to enforce the amendment, judges who will not permit convictions under it, and governors, sheriffs and mayors who will appoint peace officers who will not make arrests under it. Then, if there is a sufficiently organized force of national lawlessness systematically to defy the law, and if the whole people condone this defiance, it can be done.

In other words, if two-thirds of the elected members of both branches of congress and the majority of the elected members of both houses of the legislatures of forty-five states were so completely mistaken in public opinion that they imposed on the people a law against which the whole people will revolt; if the people of the majority of the states were so mistaken as to their own opinions that they imposed on themselves by direct vote a law against which they are prepared to declare revolution—then, by revolution, the eighteenth amendment can be made "permanently inoperative."

Otherwise this and all similar organizations are ludicrously ex post facto.

They are advancing arguments why we ought not to adopt the eighteenth amendment after we have actually adopted it. The thing is done. Perhaps after it has been in operation a while, they will be restored to a mental condition which enables them to see it.—Fresno Republican.

ANOTHER STEAMER IN TROUBLE

THE SCANTIC SAID TO BE IN DISTRESS OFF THE NEW JERSEY COAST

(Special Service to Glendale Evening News)

NEW YORK, July 17.—Announcement was made today by the U. S. Shipping Board that the steamer Scantic was reported to be in distress off the New Jersey coast. No details had been obtained.

Wonderful Opportunities in the Automobile Field

The history of American industries shows nothing which can compare with the rapid growth of automobile manufacturing. In the past few years a wonderful industry has been developed. In the United States alone there are over 500 factories at work on automobile construction, representing a capital of about $2,000,000,000. Besides there are about 32,000 dealers in the United States employing several hundreds of thousands of men and women.

The development of automobile delivery trucks and light wagons is proceeding rapidly and every year sees the introduction of new makes in large numbers.

The demand from factories, garages, and salesmen for trained men is a direct result of this marvelous growth. The supply of such men is small—their pay correspondingly high. This is the field of opportunity you can enter through the sure, easy Home-Study Courses of the International Correspondence Schools OF SCRANTON, PA.

Hundreds of thousands have proved it. The designer of the Packard "Twin Six" and hundreds of other engineers have climbed to success through I.C.S. help. For 28 years young men in offices, stores, shops, factories, mines, railroads—in every line of technical and commercial work—have been winning promotion and increased salaries through the I.C.S. Over 130,000 men are getting ready right now in the I.C.S. way for bigger jobs ahead. No matter where you live the I.C.S. will come to you. No matter what your handicap or how limited your means, the I.C.S. have a plan to meet your circumstances. No matter how small your previous education, the simply written, wonderfully illustrated I.C.S. textbooks make it easy to learn.

Complete Automobile Course

If you want to become an expert automobile driver, chauffeur, or mechanician you should study the I.C.S. Course in Automobiles, because it will acquaint you with the principles of operation, the details of construction and the types of apparatus used, making you an expert in your work. The Course is full of hints and suggestions covering all troubles and needs that may arise. As an automobile owner you cannot afford to be without the knowledge contained in this Course, whether you drive your car or employ a chauffeur. Ignorance is not only expensive to the owner, but it is dangerous to the occupants of a car.

Personals

E. H. Kerker and wife leave today for Big Bear Lake to be gone for a month or six weeks.

The A. W. Dickinson family at 220 North Central avenue have gone to the San Bernardino Mountains for a stay of several weeks.

Miss Margaret Lamberty of 331 West Wilson avenue, who is a teacher in the Whittier Schools, has been away on a vacation trip. She is expected home Monday.

The Sunday School will have charge of services at the Congregational Church next Sunday evening and the pupils will furnish the program.

The R. W. Meeker family of 1320 East Colorado leave next Monday for San Diego, where they will spend their annual vacation at Coronado Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Seal and little daughter, Mayrene, of 319 West Cerritos avenue, returned this week from a month's visit with relatives and friends in their old home state, Kentucky.

Mrs. Mabel Judd of 130 South Orange street and her little son, John, have returned from Catalina where they spent a delightful week. They report it is the finest place in the world to enjoy a vacation.

A large limb from one of the stately eucalyptus trees on West Lomita avenue fell in Clinton R. Booth's yard Wednesday evening, without any warning. Luckily no one was passing or a fatality might have resulted.

“Lucky Thirteen” was again strongly in evidence at Central Christian Church Wednesday evening. At the usual church night supper there were 13 seated at one of the tables and at one of the meetings held later 13 were present.

Dr. and Mrs. Marlenee of 301 S. Central returned the first of the week from a three weeks' vacation trip spent in the Yosemite and San Francisco. The Doctor says “One of the greatest pleasures of a vacation trip is getting back home.”

W. F. Shinner of 131 West Garfield Ave., who is a buyer for Blackstones in Los Angeles, left Wednesday for his annual business trip to New York. He will probably be gone a month and during his absence Mrs. Shinner and son will be at Huntington Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Rentfrow, Judge Harry Miller and little Ray Miller went Wednesday night to Port Los Angeles below Santa Monica for a night session of fishing for smelt and mackerel by torchlight. They have had several such excursions and enjoy them greatly.

Mrs. Wight of Eagle Rock left Wednesday for the East to visit friends in Dayton, Ohio, and elsewhere. Her daughter, Mildred Wight, is a graduate of Glendale Union High and has many friends here. Mr. Wight is proprietor of the Eagle Rock Garage.

Mrs. Charles Wallace Kimberly is planning to dispose of her home on San Fernando Road and go east for a few months. Eventually she expects to locate permanently in Los Angeles where she has relatives and friends who would like to have her near them.

Joseph Ashton of 345 West Cerritos avenue has just purchased a Ford and Frank Ashton of 120 West Park avenue a Chevrolet. Their friends are wondering whether family rivalry will induce them to race the machines to determine which has the best bargain.

Mrs. J. C. Danford of 308 East Harvard had the pleasure on Wednesday of greeting old friends from Milton, Kansas, Mrs. James Smith and her two daughters, Blanche and Ethel Smith, who were former pupils of Mrs. Danford. They are in California for a short time as guests of friends in Monrovia and came to Glendale to call upon Mrs. Danford.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Ripley Jackson and family have returned from a week-end auto trip and beach outing at San Diego, Oceanside and La Jolla. While there they leased a cottage at La Jolla, of which they will take possession the first of the month and spend the balance of the summer, returning when it is time for the schools to open.

John H. Braly and his son, Arthur, got back from Big Bear Lake Sunday afternoon. They have been making extensive improvements at their respective camps and Arthur Braly returns to the mountains today. Mrs. J. H. Braly has remained at the home on Brand boulevard and has been busy canning apricots of which there is quite a large crop on the trees in their small orchard.

WILL MOVE TO LOS ANGELES

R. L. Hendricks, of 420 East Harvard street, now that he is liberated from the Dry Goods business, is planning to sell or rent his Glendale residence and move to his old home in Los Angeles, near Vermont avenue, which he intends to improve by moving the present house on the property to the rear of the lot and building an apartment house on the front. He will live in the rear dwelling and superintend the work while it is in progress.

Miss Edith Watanan, who has been teaching in the Broadway School, is spending her vacation at Ocean Park where she expects to remain until August.

RUSSIAN PROPAGANDA

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 17.—These appeals to the toiling masses the world over are not meant for foreign consumption. They are written for the Russian proletariat."

That is the reply made to the United Press correspondent in Moscow, following the criticism that appeals made to the American workman by wireless from Moscow were too eloquent for American readers. The bolshevik author of the proclamation in question had asked for some constructive criticism.

The bolshevik foreign office spends its time writing propaganda to the world. The employees of the foreign office are specialists in agitation, which the foreign office spreads by wireless. Most of it never sees publication outside Russia, probably because the anti-bolshevik governments have found this material so biased that they refused to transmit it.

This does not seem to daunt the bolshevik foreign office, which, under Tchitcherin, the red-bearded funny little man who heads the department, turns out reams of appeals to the toiling masses daily. Tchitcherin harbors an ambition that he will some day provoke a world-wide revolution. He realizes the odds are against him. He is convinced of the importance of keeping up these appeals, and printing them for the simple-minded Russian, who feels that he is leading the world to salvation. The Russian is led to believe that he is about three jumps ahead of the band-wagon.

The foreign office is located up a dingy flight of stairs in the back floor of the once fine hotel Metropole. When confessions were going on, the live wires got the better carpeted rooms, but Tchitcherin is happy despite this shabby deal played on him by his colleagues as long as he can grind out eloquent propaganda.

The Russian people are fed daily through the press with these appeals and manifests and proclamations. Some of them are amusing. The correspondent obtained some of the most eloquent ones directed at Americans to bring home. The bolsheviks must have thought differently later, for the “appeals to the American proletariat” were confiscated at the border, along with other propaganda which the foreign office heaps on visitors.

According to “Tavarish” Tchitcherin—everyone is “tavarish,” or comrade, in Russia—he has asked for peace seven times during the last eight months. These have been official requests to governments.

In April, when the Bullitt mission, made up of Americans, visited soviet Russia to find out conditions and learn what the bolsheviks would do, the sovietists say they repeated their peace proposals. The bolsheviks are bitterly disappointed that this mission brought no results.

According to Tchitcherin, the bolsheviks offered to assume responsibility for payment of all the debts of the old Russian government to the Entente. They agreed to make good losses sustained by Entente citizens during the revolution.

In addition, they offered trade and industrial concessions, and are willing to go even farther. They are ready to revise some of their main bolshevik platforms to get peace, if the Bolshevik party can remain in power. The bolsheviks will not resign.

With rebuff the only result of his appeals, the little man with the red hair and whiskers, in an old shabby suit and a shawl around his neck, is never discouraged and continues to draft new appeals, some of them really intended for the outside world, but most of them to bolster up the courage of the Russian people.

The School Bond Election

The Board of Trustees of the Glendale City School District has called a bond election for Thursday, July 24, 1919, for $100,000 to cover the following needs of the district:

First: The Broadway School.

By the opening and widening of Broadway and of the Sycamore Canyon road, a strip thirty feet wide has been cut from the south side of the school grounds and one forty feet wide from the west side. These two cuts have reduced the school grounds to about one and one quarter acres, making them smaller in size than any other school grounds in Glendale.

It is proposed to extend these grounds north to Wilson Ave. at an expense of $6,600, thus bringing the grounds up to the average size of Glendale school grounds.

Again, the opening of the Sycamore Canyon Road involves the necessity of moving the Broadway School building for the reason that the building overlaps the proposed line of the street by ten feet. The building is now in a dilapidated condition so that to move it and put it in a usable condition would be a very expensive operation and would result in our having a patched up building which at the most would last but a few years. It is proposed to wreck this building and erect on the same site a modern school building containing ten class rooms, an auditorium that will seat about four hundred persons, a manual training room and a sewing room, everything to be strictly modern and of a permanent character. The cost of this building is estimated at from $65,000 to $70,000.

Second: The Intermediate School.

This school has grown from an average daily attendance of 175 in 1913 to 298 in the current year, with the result that the building is now wholly inadequate for the number of children attending. It is proposed to build a four room addition at the west end of the building at a probable cost of $10,000.

Third: The Columbus Ave. School.

This school has also outgrown its present capacity and it is proposed to build a kindergarten building there so as to leave the entire main building for class room purposes. This kindergarten building will need to be a large one and would probably cost $2,500.

Fourth: The Central Ave. School.

A petition, which under the law is compulsory, has been presented to the Board asking for the establishment of a kindergarten at this school. At present, children of kindergarten age living in this district have to go a long distance to the Columbus Ave. school to a kindergarten which is already overcrowded. There is no room available at the Central Ave. school for a kindergarten and it is proposed to erect a building for this purpose. This building will not need to be as large as the one at Columbus Ave. and can probably be built for $1,200.

Fifth: Cerritos Ave. School.

This school is one of the largest in the district and is at present hampered by the lack of sufficient playground. It is proposed to buy the triangular piece of ground now containing a Eucalyptus grove, at the rear of the present school grounds, and to buy or lease the small triangular piece of ground at the front of the present school grounds, now owned by the Pacific Electric Railway. The purchase of these two pieces of land would be conditioned upon our securing reasonable prices thereon.

Sixth: Furnishings.

Making full use of all equipment now on hand the new Broadway school will probably need furnishings to cost about $2,000. To furnish four new rooms at the Intermediate School will probably cost $1,200. Furnishings for the two new kindergarten buildings, including one piano, and for the additional room made available at the Columbus Ave. School would amount to about $1,200.

The action of the board in calling this bond election was taken only after it had been recommended by two regularly called mass meetings where the needs of the schools were fully discussed.

The Board and Advisory Committee ask all who are interested in the welfare of the schools to make an unbiased study of their needs and to support this bond issue as the only means of putting the schools in condition to meet their present and future requirements.
